Profile

Mr. Kueffner has been an attorney with Faulkner Banfield, P.C. since 1984. He first came to Alaska in 1982 to work as a legal intern for Justice Allen Compton of the Alaska Supreme Court. His practice centers on business transactions and business litigation. He also has extensive experience in advising boards of directors of both for-profit and non-profit corporations on their corporate and fiduciary duties, has been corporate counsel for Native Corporations and has represented Native Corporations, public utilities, and other business organizations. He has also worked with the managers and elected representatives of cities and towns in Southeast Alaska, advising them on regulatory issues and defending them in lawsuits related to personnel disputes, police work, and civil rights.

Professional Associations and Charitable Activities

Mr. Kueffner is a member of the Docks and Harbor Board for the City and Borough of Juneau (CBJ), which is responsible for the operation, development and marketing of the municipally owned port and harbors. He is also a founding member of the board of directors of the Juneau Community Foundation. Mr. Kueffner is a past President of the Juneau Bar Association and the Juneau Arts and Humanities Council.
